"Straight from the realm of Cupid. This message I bring to you. It is no tale of fiction but every word is true.

One in our midst has fallen. A victim of Sir Dan Cupid. Perhaps already you've guessed it. Unless you're a little stupid. The one who to naughty children has commanded,

"Sit down, be still." Is soon to be led to the altar. And meekly murmur 'I will.' The date is September 20. And the girl, Miss Anderson. Our Ann, and the Fellow, Hugh Mauldin of Tulsa. Yes, he's the lucky man."

At quite the loveliest party recently given, that of Monday afternoon when Mrs. Ingram Henry and Mrs. Lucien Cox entertained with bridge at the home of Mrs. Cox, 1008 McElish avenue, the foregoing message was delivered to the guests, who were gathered also in compliment to Mrs. Artella Dickson of New York, in the form of tiny letters which were presented at the conclusion of the game with individual corsage bouquets, by little Isabella Clark, as the flower girl.

The rooms were very colorful and fragrant with many baskets of flowers, which were used with ferns in a color note of pink and green. Bows of tulle, were used very effectively in the decorations.

At the conclusion of the games in which high score favor was presented the guests were served with a two-course luncheon.

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was all ways tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." — Mrs. HELEN LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

COMMISSIONERS TO TAKE UP ROAD PROJECTS SOON

Regular Session Started This Morning; Claims Passed on and Other Routine Matters.

The board of county commissioners met in regular monthly session at the court house today. The first order of business was passing on claims audited by the county attorney, after which other routine matters were taken up and disposed of.

The board expects to take up the matter of road building in the three commissioners districts under the road bond issue recently made available. As all but two bids recently submitted by contractors to complete projects were rejected and it was decided to do the work by forced account, the commissioners expect to take up this matter during this session and get this work under way at the earliest possible moment.

Under forced account many farmers and their teams will be given employment in various sections of the county that would probably not have been favored by outside contractors, and this was one of the principal reasons why the forced account proposition met with such favor at the hands of the commissioners.
